

Acapulco

"If only I could get over there to Acapulco then I could die a happy man," says Ltjg. Noreus.

American fishing vessel VENTUROUS and her boats aid in the recovery of the downed helo. The helo crew was rescued shortly after it hit the water when it threw a tail rotor while making a pass over BEAR. Fortunately for the helo, it couldn't have happened in a better place!

Helo Crash

BMI Wright and FA Puckett safely bring the downed helo crew to the BEAR.
