

2nd DIVISION

---

Every life raft on the ship was in the tender care of these salty deckaroos, who also hoisted and lowered boats from their private domain on the upper deck aft. In addition to their share of the booms and winches, these guys were all graduates of Holystone University. A look at that shining quarterdeck was proof enough.

