

.... The BLACK GANG

... While the crew complained of heat rashes, these boys in the bowels of the ship sweated all the more, for the temperature never went below the 100 degree mark. ... They could always be counted on to squeeze out a few extra RPM's when the Sammy's bow was pointed Stateside.

