

MAINTENANCE

Men pictured on this page, except for Haggard (lower right), are the untiring maintenance men of the Fire Division. Whenever there is a breakdown on some piece of equipment, these are the men who are called in to do the job of getting it back in service.

WORSHAM,
SCHMIDT,
PHILLIPS,
LEWIS,

(Above right) Weismeyer is the division plumber, always has his hands full of wrenches. He installed most plumbing in station. (Below right) Haggard drives Lt. Comdr. Pifer's station wagon. A first class fire fighter, his job makes him available at most fires. (Lower left) Beardsley's capacity as Supply Officer gave him charge of the records of public property and all fire-fighting equipment. Beardsley's wide experience comes from civilian life as auditor, 16 years with the C.C.M.O. Oil Company. He is retiring to civilian life in Bakersfield, Calif. as a Real Estate and Insurance Broker.
