

GERALD T. DOWELL. As B-3's answer to Johnny Appleseed, Jerry majored in Forestry at U. of Minnesota. He'll be planting in the Great Lakes, as he reports to ORB in the 9th.

HAROLD T. ENGER Trygve achieved the dubious distinction of tearing up the last maneuvering board in OPS. A product of Washington, he'll be going home for duty at Base Seattle.

JUAN A. GALAN Juan became a charter member of the "Joe the Barber Fan Club" shortly after arriving at OCS. He is headed toward Headquarters, where he'll help run the commandant's computers.

BRYAN M. GENEZ The owner of the non-existent, improperly placed platoon commander's sign, Bryan came to OCS from Marquette U. and Los Altos Hills, Calif. He will soon be sailing the South Seas aboard the cutter KUKUL.

CLIFFORD A. GOUDEY A product of the rocky Maine environment, Cliff became a master at guitar strumming and left-handed salutes. He's headed for duty aboard the WHEC DECISIVE.

CLINTON S. HEGG A flaxen haired viking from the Midwest, Steve enjoyed spreading happiness and ice throughout the barracks. He plans to crush much more ice while aboard the MACKINAW.

JOSEPH E. DRESSELL. Joe ran B-3's tourist home at Mt. Ranier, Md. A product of Wheeling College, he is headed for duty aboard the WAGO Achusnet at San Diego.

AMIR EIGER A native of Israel, Mr. Squared Away was ever alert to Arab commando raids. Amir will report to the Courageous at San Juan, where he will no doubt become gunnery officer.
