

SAMUEL H. ANDERSON, Amsterdam, N.Y. (Brown, Harvard Business) Duty: Humanities Dept. USCG Academy. B-4's resident scholar, Andy was master of the art of multiple guess, classbooks and nightly peripatetics about the barracks during study hours.

GILBERT B. BECK, Tampa, Fla. (Loyola of New Orleans, Boston College Law) Duty: MIO N.Y. Bravo 4's counsellor-at-large and foremost libertarian, Gil was an insomniac whose head never touched his pillow. Thanks to Bill McGrath, who pulled a "Biggers" on him, he also held the platoon long distance taxi record.

ROBERT C. BERRY, Honolulu, Hawaii (U. of Hawaii) Duty: WLB Planetree. Bob was the real brains behind Andy's success; who can forget his wild weekend escapades???

DALE C. BIGGERS, New Orleans. (Tulane) Duty: MIO Milwaukee. During "indoc" week Dale made a good impression—on the exchange sidewalk. Affectionately known as "Scuz", his favorite pastimes were collecting lint, keeping his eyes open, and falling on his face.

JAMES O. BOYLAN, La Jolla, Calif. (U. of Calif., San Diego) Duty: Alameda. A genuine California dreamer, Jim was our expert on catching rays, and as a beachboy emeritus, a leading volleyball exponent (sans sand).

JAMES R. BYRUM, Wheeling, W. Va. (Cornell) Duty: COTP Baltimore. B-4's best kept secret, Jim answered to the name Wilson. He came to OCS after receiving 2 draft notices, and hasn't been noticed since.

WILLIAM J. DENNISON, South Plainfield, N.J. (Lafayette) Duty: "Snipe" Glacier. Gung-ho Bill guided our platoon with enormous enthusiasm and spirit both as platoon commander and as permanent PPO. His first choice for duty was the Glacier and no greater love hath any man. Bill's hobbies include gaskets and penguins.

MICHAEL L. DUVALI, Savannah, Ga. (QMC) Duty: WLB Gentian. B-4's Grand Inquisitor never let a question go unasked or a comment go unmade. Despite a 40 year prostate he has constantly worked to push up and pull up his way toward commissioning, stopping only occasionally to spread a rumor or talk to Ralph.

THOMAS A. FREDERICK, Grosse Point Shores, Michigan. (U. of Michigan) Duty: HQ Engineering. Tom came here via Ann Arbor (school), Milwaukee (work), and Chicago (play). He took exceeding delight in sleeping in class and harassing instructors.

RONALD A. FRITZSCHE, Sacramento, Calif. (Humboldt State) Duty: WLB Evergreen. In our esoteric microcosm here at Yorktown, which he so aply characterized as "the land of the quick and the hungry", Ron always managed to be first at our formations, and yet he still found time to relax with his ever present pipe and favor the frantic whirl around him with a quiet Puckish grin.

HARRY A. HALKOWICH, Warren, N.J. (Rutgers) Duty: WMEC Steadfast. "Plastic Harry" maintained a stapes, corfam sartorial elegance unsurpassed in the platoon. He's rumored to have secretly perfected drip dry leggings and a wrinkle-resistant rack. If only Marv could see him now. . . .

HERBERT L. HAMMOND III, Corvallis, Oregon. (Oregon State) Duty: Base Houston. The important thing about Herb is he never worried about anything! He sparked our basketball team with his 50 foot heaves and AT&T with his 5 hour calls; which made the OC's very mad and his wife very glad. But what did he do all weekend?

WILLIAM F.X. HOWE, Jersey City, N.J. (U. of Scranton) Duty: HQ ENE. Always calm and cool, Bill set an easy going pace and then slowed down. He will be remembered for his exemplary braced attention and his instantaneous rapport with Mr. Broga. Nor will they soon forget him, face and figure, at Gus's Restaurant.

BRUCE A. JACKSON, Newark, Delaware. (U. of Delaware) Duty: HQ MMS. Bruce spent his weekends taping his legs and limping; his weekends luxuriating in the pleasures of a Va. Beach holiday with his wife, and his money on airplane tickets for Cheryl. His spartan existence has been awarded by a 3 year 1st choice tour of duty aboard a hi-endurance WDESK.

WILLIAM P. JOHNSON, Bristol Conn. (U. of Conn.) Duty: Base Portland. A live wire, "Wild Bill" always kept the platoon area in an uproar with his freewheeling pranks and sea stories.

GEORGE S. KELLY, JR., Tarrytown, N.Y. (Holy Cross) Duty: CGC Courier. The 2 things George enjoyed most at RTC were the military discipline and the TDO's desert. His major goals are to do morning calisthenics with vigor, to play a decent game of basketball, and to pat Mr. Cragin on the head.

CHARLES R. LIKUS, Waukegan, Ill. (Northern Illinois U.) Duty: Base San Juan. Squad leader Chuck encountered trouble maintaining proper stability and still marches with a list. Possibly he was overburdened by his many platoon positions?

DAVID F. MAINLAND, Seattle, Wash. (U. of California) Duty: MIO Seattle. Dave had a dry and acute sense of humor we all enjoyed and appreciated. His hobbies were OCS and marching just slightly out of step. He intends to take up pencil pushing. Yes, Dave does look like a Teddy Bear.
