

Military dependents go aboard. For them it is an exciting and busy day with much on their minds: travel orders, passports, baggage, berthings—and, yes, the children.

