

Arrival, Seattle, Washington. After many long days tossing about in a wilderness of water, it's land at last. Most aboard ship, afflicted with "channel fever" (pre-arrival jitters) had little sleep the night before. Soon the lines will go down and the gangplank up. For many there will be dramatic reunions on the pier.