

Current meters were set down in the northern Weddell Sea to monitor the flow of the Antarctic Bottom Water out of the Weddell Sea for a whole year.

INTERNATIONAL WEDDELL SEA OCEANOGRAPHIC EXPEDITION

1975

Once again GLACIER penetrated the vastly unexplored Weddell Sea to further man's knowledge of the world's oceans and the vast food chain found therein.