

ENTERING KING NEPTUNE'S REALM

The Royal Court in Waiting.

On November 24, GLACIER crossed the Equator at $138^{\circ} 36.8'W$ Longitude. As Davy Jones promised the previous day, King Neptune and his court came aboard to supervise the initiation of all polywogs into the mysteries of Imperium Neptun Regis. As the initiation began it was evident that few polywogs appreciated the profound significance of the events in which they were about to participate.

The polywogs did little to stifle the wrath of King and his court.
