

To many GLACIER sailors the importance of the equator crossing festivities will always remain a mystery. But most of us are grateful to King Neptune for taking time out from the pressing business of his realm to insure that each of us humble sailors would be able to proudly declare himself a SHELLBACK.

