

The French Navy worked hard to insure that we would enjoy our brief stay. The free island tours, diving expeditions and social gatherings that were made available to each of us helped make our visit most memorable. LT James SLEMONS, USCGR arrived in Tahiti the day before GLACIER to help coordinate these activities. LT SLEMONS then joined us as we continued southward to Auckland.

