

CALLAO PERU

A brass band was on the pier to welcome us to this Peruvian seaport. We brought home many bargains that we dickered for at the Market Places. Most of the sweaters, blankets, and ponchos we bought were woven from the wool of the Andean Alpaca. Fifty four crewmembers took the opportunity to visit the magnificent Inca ruins of Machu Picchu high in the Andes Mountains.

