

L.T. Prudhomme confers with ATC Gordy

Aviation Detachment 114 reported enroute in Port Huenense. These dedicated men and their flying machines provided vital support to the scientists by moving tons of samples and equipment. They logged an impressive amount of flying hours, of which over 200 was over the Antarctic Ice. They also participated in shipboard activities including operating the Ham Shack, GLACIER TV, GLACIER Radio and cartooning, hats off to AVDET 114.

"Easy does it!"

L.T. Grinnell flying his couch

Helo over ice

Flight Deck Crew unloading boxes of Scientific experiments