

After the troops are embarked each Coast Guardsman has his job to do on board the GORDON. Captain Wood tells the troops over the public address system, "Our job is to get you to your destination quickly and safely and with the maximum comfort our facilities will provide."

