

KAOSIUNG

TAIWAN

We spent 11 days in upkeep status alongside a Navy tender except for a brief interruption for typhoon evasion. The second largest city in Taiwan, Kaohsiung is one of the busiest sea ports in the Far East. While our stay was mainly to get the ship back in shape after two long patrols we all had a chance to hunt for excellent bargains in the atmosphere of Old China.