
New York Fleet Week 1990

POLAR SEA's New York City port call marked the first visit of the Polar Class Icebreaker to the east coast of the United States. POLAR SEA steamed into New York Harbor with 10 Coast Guard Cutters and Navy ships while hundreds of spectators watched from Governors Island. The ship moored at Pier 92 and the crew participated in four days of Fleet Week activities.

