

Parad-ice

Antarctica. For those who've never been there, it is an incredible place to be . . . for a couple of weeks. For those who have, well, it's just another south trip. Whatever the reason, scientists and explorers keep coming to this frozen continent.
