

San Diego

Finally back in the U.S. of A., Polar Sea tied up at the naval station. From there, you could take the train into town and go to Balboa Park and Mission Beach, or grab a cab and head just south of the border to Tijuana. The AVDET departed the ship for the last time, just before heading back to Mobile. With the naval station as large as it is, there was something for everyone.

Top: Patrol boats coming in and out of Group San Diego.

Bottom: The San Diego skyline.

Right: SS2 Dietz mans his Special Sea Detail station for close to the last time.

