

Home Sweet Home

Arriving back in Seattle April 19, there were many tears of happiness shed and emotional hugs shared. Almost immediately following greetings, those who had duty were turning to making the ship ready for her next mission. The rest went home to spend time with family or carouse in familiar territory.

Above left: Families anxiously await the arrival of their loved ones.

Left: Coming into Seattle.

Above: A Seattle City Fire Boat signals our arrival.

Left: SS2 Skinner receives a warm hug from his son.