

traffic kept radiomen and electronics technicians hopping, and constantly changing speed requirements kept the engineers busy making diesel to turbine transfers. The following message was received from

Commander, Third Fleet, at the end of the exercise, commenting on RUSH's performance:
FROM Commander, Third Fleet
TO USCGC RUSH
SUBJ FLEETEX 83-1

1. I commend the dedication and professionalism which you demonstrated throughout FleetEx 83-1. The smooth teamwork of all those involved reflects professionalism and dedication of which each can take pride.

 2. Vice Admiral Lawrence Sends.

Opposite page, clockwise from top: The USS ROARK maneuvering during UNREP; Navy destroyers in formation; All those antennas and not one S*@$ channel! The USS SIDES steaming. Below, clockwise from top: Ace Parking .50/night, $16.00/month. Close-up of USS CORRAL SEA taken during PhotoEx; Ships in formation in typically bad weather; Two wild and crazy guys having fun at 30 gals/min. The USS CORRAL SEA conducting air qualifications; Formation steaming is only a figure of speech - the USS SIDES.