

Golden Dragons Reign Supreme

There were thirty-six Wogs initiated. The festivities began the night before the initiation with the slave auction, selling each of the Wogs to a Golden Dragon or two. Some of the Wogs sold for as much as fifty dollars! The next morning, wearing uniforms inside out and backwards, Wogs began the menial tasks assigned them by their masters. There were also Wog races, A Wog disco contest, and Wog flight ops.

All too soon the actual initiation began. Each Wog was tried by a Kangaroo Court and found guilty, thrown into a trash shoot, inoculated by a doctor, of sorts, given a special haircut, forced to drink a special truth serum prepared by the great cooks onboard, and pay a special tribute to the