

Costa Rica is the most democratic country in Central America, but it does have a very small communist party which posts anti-American bills in all the towns. This poster was destroyed by the local residents shortly after the picture was taken. Below is a poster expressing the real public attitude in San Mateo and the other towns.

