

HONOLULU!

Our first stop after leaving Seattle was Pearl Harbor, near Honolulu, Hawaii, where we were given the islands' traditional hula greetings. We kept busy making last minute preparations for our deployment, and were briefed as to our duties. While in Hawaii we "chopped" to the Navy, and began taking our orders from the Commander of the Seventh Fleet.

But we still had time to view this beautiful island paradise, it's sun and surf, and partake of Waikiki's night life.
