

SHORE BOMB

The most colorful and exciting duty during our deployment were the N.G.F.S. (Naval Gun Fire Support) or Shore Bombardment missions. Usually these missions were pre-scheduled harassment and interdiction activities in support of friendly ground or surface action, but occasionally we received an urgent call for fire in support of a friendly village or ground unit that had come under an enemy attack.

