

MAIL CALL

Mail Call was probably the one event most looked forward to. While news of demonstrations, hippies, draft card burners, and anti-war protests gave us some room for reasonable doubt, the constant flow of letters, magazines, home-town newspapers, gifts, and CARE packages assured us that our families and friends were firmly behind us and everything we did. We will always feel grateful and indebted to those persons whose correspondence gave us something to look forward to with each mail call.
