

The USS WAKEFIELD bound for Europe with American troops.

The mighty ship put out to sea to begin the fulfillment of the mission to which she was dedicated. A Navy blimp shadowed her until nightfall, then she was left to protect herself.