

"We are going to Scotland", said the troops, when two crew members appeared with their bag pipes to entertain them. They were wrong. It was Liverpool again

Men thought of home, of war, and hundreds of things as they sailed to a foreign country to engage a deadly enemy. Coast Guardsmen brought on their unique forms of entertainment to amuse the troops and create laughter and fun.