

We left Milwaukee bidding farewell
to our families and friends.
Under the golden arches, away from everything familiar to us all.

One of the two helos coming aboard for the long trek north.